Americans Accused of Espionage

By REINHOLD ENOZ

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government has accused four members of the U.S. Embassy of improper activities smacking of espionage but hasn't expelled them from the Soviet Union.

Instead the Soviets barred the quartet from traveling in the Soviet Union outside Moscow for 90 days. There was no indication why they were not expelled, the usual penalty.

The U.S. Embassy said the senior British air attaché in Moscow, Air Commodore A. N. Davis, was involved in one of the incidents with the Americans. But the British Embassy refused to confirm or deny this or to say whether he also had been restricted to Moscow.

The U.S. Embassy said the Soviets rigged incidents to make the Americans look like spies.

An embassy spokesman, confirming the travel ban today after news of it leaked out, said U.S. Charge d'Affaires Walter Stoessel had lodged protests with the Soviets and denied the Americans were engaged in any misconduct or spying.

The spokesman said the Soviets rejected Stoessel's request to lift the travel ban, which does not forbid the men leaving the country.

The Americans were two naval attaches, Cmdr. Stuart Savage of Alma, Kan., and Lt. Leonard Bracken of Philadelphia, Pa., and two air attaches, Lt. Col. Edgar Smith and Capt. Edmund Svetina, both of Dayton, Ohio.

The embassy spokesman said the Soviets accused Savage and Bracken of making illegal photographs and Smith and Svetina of penetrating military territory.

The spokesman said the accusations arose from "separate incidents in which the Americans were surrounded by angry crowds in Leningrad and Tula, south of Moscow, in February."

Jesuits Are Pioneering Church Move

POONA, India (AP) — Two Jesuit priests are pioneering a movement within their church—they are living like Hindus.

The Rev. G. A. Deleury of Paris and the Rev. Matthew Lederle of Munich, Germany, spend much of their time sitting cross-legged on the floor, talking with Hindus and learning about the Hindu religion and way of life.

Father Lederle is writing part of his thesis for his doctorate at Poona University.

The Christian church has been in India for nearly 2,000 years, since the days of St. Thomas the Apostle, the "doubting Thomas" of the gospels. Yet the progress of Christianity has been very slow here. Christians make up about 2½ per cent of India's 450 million population.

Because of this, the church has decided to use different ways to get across its message. Priests living with, and like, Hindus is one of these.

Both Father Lederle, 37, and Father Deleury, 42, have permission of their Jesuit superior and the bishop here to live in this manner.

Their simple, three-room apartment is in an area of Poona called the Brahmin section. The Brahmins, who number about 150,000 here in this section of Poona, are the highest caste of the Hindus.

"The church," Father Lederle said, "had some success among the lower castes of Indians but there is very little dialogue or understanding of Christianity among the higher caste. Our apostolate is to serve as a bridge between Christianity and Hinduism."

In a small chapel in their apartment, the two priests say their Masses every morning.

Father Deleury, who has let his hair grow like a Hindu holy man, is a recognized authority on Hinduism. He has written several books on Hinduism and has translated a book on Hinduism into French for the United Nations.

Celebration Brings Drop in Prices

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — The cash register rang up 1939 prices Thursday when George and Adele Skaff celebrated the 25th anniversary of their cafeteria.

They sold ham dinners for 35 cents; pie, soup and hamburgers for a dime, and milk or coffee for a nickel.

The Skaffs, who opened the cafeteria April 9, 1939, said, "We're enjoying ourselves."

But, today those ham dinners were $1.25 again.

Double Talk Is Banana Oil That Greases Social Gears in This Creaky Civilization

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Spring is the season for self-improvement.

It is a good time to hold a double-talk drill to brush up on your conversational skill.

"Double-talk is the old banana oil that greases the social gears in our creaky civilization. It is the art of saying something meaningful in any situation without disclosing what you are really thinking."

Here are a few examples of double-talk in action—followed by their literal translations:

"Heavens, dear, it's been ages and ages since I last saw you." And then my luck had to change.

"Um-m-m-m. What a really yummy dish! You simply must give me your recipe." While you're at it, lend me a stomach pump too.

"Oh, professor, your lecture was absolutely enchanting—it carried me away." If I don't pass in this course, I'll never get initiated into my sorority.

"Don't tell me you're 55 years

Military Starts Brazil Left Wing Purge

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — Revolutionary leaders stirred concern among lawmakers today by bypassing Congress in a drive to purge Brazil of the leftist supporters of ousted President Joao Goulart.

At least 49 congressmen—about 10 per cent of the members of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies—were sought on suspicion of subversion.

However, three members of Goulart's Labor party who were picked up Thursday night were released without explanation.

Brazil's military ministers announced antiradical measures in Rio de Janeiro Thursday night enabling military chiefs to suspend political rights for 10 years and to revoke mandates of federal, state and municipal legislators without court action.

The powers were contained in an "institutional act" ordered by the military revolutionary command without congressional approval. News of the wave of arrests brought an abrupt halt to a night session of the Chamber of Deputies.

Acting Chamber President Afonso Celso demanded an explanation from military authorities.

Congress was steeped in gloom as knots of lawmakers held quiet conversations in the corridors of the congressional building or in their offices.

Deputy Rolando Corbisier, a young Rio architect and member of Goulart's labor party, was arrested at dinner with his wife and friends at the Hotel Nacional.

Corbisier was released, but two other labor party deputies, Benedito Cerqueira and Cocayua Cunha, remained in custody.

The "institutional act" also is designed to give the new interim president more power over a reluctant Congress in dealing

He also starred at linebacker award in his junior and senior year.

Last year he gained 1,051 yards passing in Rogers' 6-2-1 season. In 1962, Wilkinson had 1,239 yards passing in a 10-0 season.

Pesticides Not Harmful Official Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — A chemical company official defended today the agricultural use of three pesticides, held by some to be harmful to fish and wildlife.

Donald E. Ullrich, of the Shell Chemical Co., New York, said there is no evidence that runoff from normal agricultural uses of the insecticides caused a huge fish kill in the lower Mississippi River.

Ullrich, in testimony prepared for a hearing by the Department of Agriculture, said the chemicals—aldrin, endrin and dieldrin—are not dangerous if used according to department recommendations and label directions.

He said his company is making laboratory studies of fish from the Mississippi River in a further investigation of what, if any, effects came from endrin.

The department is conducting hearings to gather information relating to the uses of the pesticides and the cause of the fish kill. The department says the information is needed to determine whether it should cancel or modify registration of the pesticides.

A Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., also is holding hearings on the fish kill. Ribicoff has accused agriculture officials of dragging their heels.

Leon W. Weinberger, director of the Public Health Service's Water Supply and Pollution Control Division, testified at Thursday's agriculture hearing that three months of laboratory studies point to endrin as the most likely cause of the massive fish kill.

"All the efforts to date to establish any other cause for the fish mortality have produced negative results," he said.

But Bernard Loran, research director of Velsicol Chemical Corp., Chicago, disputed the government witness.

"Endrin is not the causative factor for the eason that endrin does not cause the observed symptoms," Loran said.

Sentence of 10 Years Appealed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ted B. Freeman, 34, of Little Rock, appealed a 10-year sentence for second degree murder to the Arkansas Supreme Court Thursday.

He was convicted in Circuit Court here in the Sept. 16, 1962, shooting of Billie G. McKim, 32, of Little Rock, at a night club near here.

Some 13 dentists with a combined service of 400 years in the profession in Arkansas were honored at a luncheon Thursday in Little Rock at the Arkansas State Dentist's Associated meet... among those getting 25 year awards was Dr. Henry J. Lile, Jonesboro, a brother of Mrs. P. A. Lewis of Hope and the late, Dr. L. M. Lile, M. D.

Fair Skies Over Most of U. S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fair skies and moderate temperatures blanketed most of the nation today.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific the Weather Bureau reported clear weather except for showers in the far Northwest and occasional sprinkles near Lake Michigan and in the Florida Keys.

Early morning temperatures were close to seasonal normals with readings from the 30s in the Northeast to the 70s in southern Florida and the Southwest.

Don't Follow on Rights Bill, Senator Urges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, told the Senate today it must not let itself be "pushed or panicked" into accepting the House-passed civil rights bill.

Urging restraint and reasonableness, Miller deplored talk that bloodshed and violence can be expected unless a bill is passed. He challenged also demands that the House measure be passed without changing a comma or a semicolon.

As the Senate went into the 27th day of debate on the civil rights issue, Miller emphasized he was not saying that "we should compromise the principles of the bill."

But he urged supporters of the measure to be willing to accept some changes to get a meaningful and reasonable bill.

Miller said it would not help either side "to throw out the idea of bloodshed, force and violence" and he hoped there would be "no more statements of that kind on the floor of the Senate."

This prompted Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to reiterate that "unless we give full constitutional rights to Negroes, we cannot stop the issue from going to the streets of America."

Morse said he gathered that Miller thought such talk was undesirable but added "I happen to believe it is an undeniable fact"—one that Congress and the people must face.

Miller's talk of a need for compromise came after some Republican supporters of the bill refused to back changes in a section against job discrimination, as proposed by GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Pipe on Truck Causes Accident

At West 3rd and Louisiana Streets yesterday a long piece of pipe caused a three vehicle accident. The pipe was on a Kroger Co. truck which was parked at Hope Builders Supply by its driver, Paul E. Matthews.

A Stickland transport truck driven by Earl Alsap of Little Rock hit the pipe which extended out over the highway. A door and glass was smashed. The truck drug the pipe across a Cadillac which had been parked nearby by Mrs. Jim Martindale. The pipe dented the top of the car.

Officers Ward and Sinyard charged Matthews with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Guerrillas Fall Back Near Saigon

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrillas fell back south of Saigon today after a heavy engagement that took a severe toll of casualties on both sides, including the life of a U.S. pilot.

The battle Thursday was the second major clash in as many days in an area considered by the Vietnamese government to be one of the most crucial in the long war against the Viet Cong.

The U.S. pilot and his Vietnamese observer were killed when their Vietnamese fighter plane was shot down by Communist gunfire at the height of the battle. A U.S. spokesman reported the recovery of the body of the pilot, the 123rd American killed in action since 1962.

Two U.S. Army helicopters were hit and forced to land near the scene of the battle. One American crewman was injured slightly. One helicopter was destroyed by its crew.

Two U.S. army men were wounded in the battle, which swirled around Mo Cay, 50 miles south of Saigon.

Shriver told some 1,200 persons at a meeting sponsored by the Little Rock Great Decisions discussion group that no matter which administration wins the presidential election in November, he expects the Peace Corps to be continued.

Shriver said "Most of the Republican candidates have endorsed the Peace Corps," and there is not a great deal of difference in how the two major parties feel about it.

He commented, "The health of the patient is good."

The corps, he said, is a voluntary undertaking, yet it is made up largely of professional people — lawyers, geologist, nurses, doctors and businessmen.

Shriver outlined the four major sections of the war on poverty, designed for youths, farmers, businesses and communities, and said the program will depend on local leadership.

"If you don't like this program, you don't have to buy it," he said.

Calls for a Bipartisan Poverty War

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — R. Sargent Shriver Jr. said Thursday man is the object in both the Peace Corps and the current administration war on poverty. He heads both.

Shriver told some 1,200 persons at a meeting sponsored by the Little Rock Great Decisions discussion group that no matter which administration wins the presidential election in November, he expects the Peace Corps to be continued.

Shriver said "Most of the Republican candidates have endorsed the Peace Corps," and there is not a great deal of difference in how the two major parties feel about it.

Johnson Delays Rail Strike for 15 Days

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, having won a delay of any nationwide rail strike, pressed through personal talks today toward a goal of easing the strike threat altogether.

The President invited labor and management representatives to negotiate at the White House.

And, in another personal touch, he held a conference in his office with Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and four other federal officials.

Next, Johnson got the union and management men out in the rose garden and made a direct appeal to them.

He told them that he wanted "an honorable solution — not a solution imposed by decree."

"The President expressed confidence that the outcome of the talks would be in the interest of all Americans."

Noting that the rail work rules dispute, which underlies the strike threat, has defied all negotiating efforts for the past four years, Johnson said: "We begin as failures. We will finish, I hope, as successes."

He urged an agreement within 15 days "if not sooner."

The President late Thursday night persuaded five railroad brotherhoods to postpone, for 15 days, a nationwide strike that had been scheduled for 12:01 a.m. today.

Johnson said that he, personally, approached the negotiations "free of any preconceptions," but with the conviction that the rights of labor, management and the public must be protected.

"The national interest, in all cases, is overriding; but the national interest is never truly served when individual rights are suppressed," Johnson said.

The President voiced what appeared to be an indirect warning that if there is no agreement he will ask Congress to take a hand with new legislation.

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Labor party chalked up important gains in 22 county elections and painted bright chances of wresting power from the Conservatives in national elections this fall.

Returns from Thursday's elections showed the Labor party won control of the 100-seat Greater London Council, the capital's governing body. Labor had won 53 seats and Conservatives 21 with results of 26 contests still to come.

with Brazil's monumental government problems, including inflation and a chaotic economy. It gives Congress 30 days in which to act on bills proposed by the president.
The act permits the president to propose amendments to the constitution and provides for their approval by a simple majority of both houses of Congress instead of the two-thirds majority required previously.
The act will remain in effect until the end of Goulart's unexpired term Jan. 31, 1966. It orders Congress to meet within two days to elect a provisional president to serve the 20 months. The election is scheduled for Saturday.
The leading presidential candidate is the former army chief of staff, Gen. Humberto Castelo Branco, a leader in Goulart's ouster and a sponsor of the "institutional act."
While some Goulart sympathizers vanished to elude arrest, the military leaders justified the act by declaring their coup was an "authentic revolution," backed by "the will of the nation."
Former President Juscelino Kubitschek, the Social Democratic party's 1965 presidential candidate, hailed the measure as the final step in liquidating communism from Brazil's government.

Johnson Delays Americans

If the 15-day truce period fails to produce a settlement, he said. "We will follow democratic processes, and find other means."

Johnson did not elaborate on what further steps might be taken.

Johnson said he followed a deep-seated principle that, so long as parties to a dispute observe the admonition of the Prophet Isaiah to "Come, let us reason together," there is always a chance of success.

The President said he "never was so proud to be an American" as he was Thursday night when labor and management representatives — with, as he put it, strong convictions — agreed to revoke decision in the national interest.

It was touch and go almost up to the last minute before Johnson announced both sides had agreed to a 15-day delay to sit down once more in an effort to settle their long, snarled dispute over wages and working conditions.

The agreement came within less than two hours of the midnight deadline, when 200,000 members of five unions were to strike on nearly 200 railroads.

"The entire nation is grateful for the patriotic attitude of both the carriers and the brotherhoods," said Johnson in announcing postponement of the gravest labor crisis of his administration.

Johnson had indicated deep concern that a nationwide rail shutdown would cancel out the stimulus of the recent tax cut and seriously affect the U. S. economy.

Negotiations aimed at preventing a new crisis when the 15-day period expires were to begin at 10 a. m. in the Cabinet room of the White House, with Johnson keeping close personal tab on developments.

In addition to top administration labor officials, Johnson called in two well-known private mediators, New York attorney Theodore Kheel and University of Pennsylvania economist George Taylor.

They join Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Assistant Secretary James Reynolds and Chairman Francis A. O'Neill Jr. of the National Mediation Board in trying to settle the five-year-old dispute.

Court action, an act of Congress and seemingly endless talks have so far failed to bring the two sides together.

As part of the deal to postpone the nationwide shutdown, the unions agreed to lift a strike in which they had closed down the 14-state operations of the Illinois Central Railroad in an effort to break the industry's united front.

The railroads, in return, agreed to withdraw nationwide posting of work rules changes which are at the heart of the dispute.

Said Johnson: "We appeal to the railroad officials throughout the land and to all the members of the railroad brotherhoods to act in accordance with this agreement and in the best of faith and we pledge our efforts to do our dead level best to work out an agreement that will be in the public interest and satisfactory to all."

Both union and management spokesmen praised Johnson for his efforts.

Speaking for the railroad industry, Wayne Johnston, president of the Illinois Central, said: "We pledge ourselves to continue efforts to reach a fair settlement in the national interest."

Roy Davidson, grand chief engineer of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said telegrams were being sent to members of all five unions to stay on the job.

Due to the late hour of the announcement, the word apparently did not reach all union officials and there were scattered reports of walkouts.

a log toppled from a pile on the truck, striking him in the head.

U.S. diplomats believe Soviet authorities instructed the citizens beforehand to pick out the Americans and create a disturbance. On both occasions the men were in civilian clothes but were in American cars.

The embassy spokesman gave this account of the incidents: Savage and Bracken were riding in Leningrad Feb. 14 when a crowd of "irate citizens" gathered around the auto in St. Isaac's Square.

The crowd kept Savage and Bracken in the car while they beat on the hood and crawled over it. Police shuffled them away after 15 or 20 minutes.

The U.S. spokesman denied that Savage and Bracken took any photographs.

Smith and Sventina and the Briton were involved in a similar incident in Tula March 17 while driving back to Moscow from Orel. After visiting several Tula stores, they crossed the main street and started to relax by walking in a public park.

In the park the air attaches were ringed by angry citizens and Soviet military personnel who detained them about 40 minutes and accused them of being on military property. The spokesman said the park is near an airfield but is a public facility.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviets have accused four members of the U.S. Embassy of suspected espionage and told them they cannot travel outside Moscow for 90 days, an embassy spokesman said today.

The embassy said it had protested to the Soviet government and had denied that the officials were engaged in any improper activity or espionage.

The embassy said the Americans were Navy Cmdr. Stuart Savage, Navy Lt. Leonard Bracken, Air Force Lt. Col. Edgar Smith and Air Force Capt. Edmund Zvetina.

The American spokesman said the two Navy officers were involved in an incident on Feb. 14 in Leningrad, a seaport.

The attaches, the spokesman said, were riding in a car when it was stopped by a crowd of "irate citizens" for 15 to 20 minutes. The crowd accused the Americans of having made illegal photographs. They were then permitted to go without further incident.

No photographs were made, the spokesman said.

The two Air Force attaches, the embassy said, were involved in a similar incident on March 17 in Tulsa, south of Moscow, while driving from Orel to the capital.

Old Soldier Comes to End of Journey

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The old soldier was home today, his last long journey at an end.

General of the Army Douglas MacArthur lay in repose in a flag-draped coffin on a catafalque over the crypt containing his tomb into which he will be lowered Saturday.

And this old Navy town turned out by the thousands to pay final respects to the warrior most known only by his glory and the symbols of his fame—the crushed campaign hat and the cornucop pipe.

He will lie in state as the long lines pass through the pillared MacArthur Memorial until the Episcopal funeral services at the pink and black crypt.

The reason MacArthur chose to be buried in the memorial named for him is that his mother was born, raised and married in this seaport. The general, who always called himself a "spiritual son of Virginia," actually was born in Little Rock, Ark. where his father, Lt. Gen. Arthur MacArthur, was stationed at the time.

The memorial itself is a reconstructed courthouse and houses MacArthur's papers, one of his cornucop pipes and the campaign hat with the gold braid.

President Johnson, head bowed and homburg hat in hand gave his final salute Thursday to the hero of three wars at the Washington airport.

The President will be represented at the funeral Saturday by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

In cool, windy weather a crowd of more than 200,000 gathered in Norfolk as a giant Air Force C130 Hercules brought MacArthur's body from the capital.

The general's widow and son, Arthur, 26, arrived with clergy, military and civilian dignitaries a few minutes before.

For the first time in a week the skies here cleared and the casket was carried from the plane to a hearse with full honors, including ruffles and flourishes, a 19-gun salute and the Navy band playing the general's march and the hymn, "God of Our Fathers."

The motorcade drove six miles to the city's outskirts where the casket was transferred to caisson draped in black crepe and accompanied by a black riderless horse. The cortege moved through and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Stewart.

Arch Moore Ellington came this week from Juneau, Alaska, to see Mr. and Mrs. Manual Hamm and Mrs. Arch Moore.

Mrs. Retha Russell, Mr. and Mrs. David Davis and two daughters, all of whom live in California, are visiting Misses Hael and Bea Abram.

Mrs. E. J. Whitman will leave Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hughes Ratliff of Hobbs, N.M., for a trip to Washington, D.C., and other points of interest in that area.

MOTHER FEARS SON A
BLACK SHEEP, TAKING
AFTER HIS FATHER

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: I'm terribly worried about my younger son. Sometimes he doesn't get on with his playmates, and he should study harder at school. He seems like his father. From an early age, he used to cry and demand attention when I was talking to other children. I think that many families have a black sheep, and I'm embarrassed to admit he may be ours. He's like his father, whom I divorced three years ago. He was a ne'er-do-well, and so were some of his relations. Isn't it true that black sheep run in families? —Mrs. L. L. M.

Dear Mrs. L. L. M.: Those who use the term would hesitate if they knew so-called black sheep are not born, but made.

Next time you hear the words "black sheep" used, size up the individual using them. You will find it's someone who failed to get something he wanted. Usually, it's money. Often, it's prestige a parent wanted for its reflected glory.

I've heard a child under six referred to as the black sheep in the family, but I have child for that name later on.

Feeling one child is a constant source of annoyance, never quite meeting their rigid standards, they crystallize their irritation by applying the disparaging term "black sheep."

The family that uses this name often compounds its ignorance by implying that this blackness is inherited. It is a thinly transparent way of defending themselves with the excuse that they "couldn't do anything about it."

The real reason that children fail to fit into the family pattern and expectations, points out Dr. Allen Fromme in "The Parents' Handbook," is that they have been rejected, and feel so deeply inadequate and discouraged that any effort seems useless.

How do parents reject their children? They assume one of two attitudes: they pay no attention to the child when he needs it, or they monitor everything that he does closely and demandingly.

Another unthinking action on the part of parents almost invariably shakes his sense of personal worth. This is the implication that he doesn't compare favorably with his brothers or sisters. When we play favorites the lined streets with an honor guard of six major generals, four rear admirals, more than 600 officers and men of the armed forces and a company of West Point cadets.

In the rotunda of the memorial, the casket was placed on the purple-draped catafalque bearing a silver five-star insignia.

we are deliberately creating black sheep.

Never say to a child, "Why don't you behave like your brother?" Even if your child fails to meet your high expectations, he can't be without other virtues. Use these other virtues as the key to your relationship instead of telling him about yourself, and your plans for him. Children only become black sheep because they have been locked out of their parents' understanding.

How Do Your Order From A Menu?

One test of your neurotic tendencies might be how long you look at the restaurant menu. If it takes a long time to make a choice, because just about everything on the menu looks good to you, then you score well in this little aspect of mental health. But if you decided right away because you order the same thing everytime, or if you finger over the decision because nothing looks good to you, this might be an indication of neurotic tendencies.

Research teams at three different universities have been at work on this, and the results from Harvard, the University of California and Western Reserve University all lead to the same conclusion. The well-adjusted person usually likes a greater variety of foods than the person with some problems of adjustment.

Psychiatrist David Harold Fink thinks he has found the reason for this. He says it follows a well-established psychological principle that when a person is developing a neurosis his viewpoint becomes narrower and narrower. He is able to find more things in his life that he doesn't like and different types of food are likely to be among these.

Ape Turns in a False Alarm

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—An ape turned in a false alarm Wednesday.

The ape, being used for experiments at Stanford University Medical Center, was being wheeled in a cage when he reached between the bars and pulled the alarm lever.

Firemen from the campus department and nearby Palo Alto responded and found some red-faced researchers — but no

Water Spring Brings Concern

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) —The ground started bubbling up before the eyes of startled Anchorage residents, then water began gushing out.

For those who had lived through earthquake and tidal wave damage, the new upheaval brought apprehension.

"I hope it isn't a volcano," said Mrs. Robert L. Hanson.

Roger M. Waller of the U. S. Geological Survey, said underground water pressure probably had built up in the spring thaw and pushed up the soil until it fractured and bubbled out Wednesday.

The result was a bulge about 50 feet across. Residents said the ground had risen 10 feet, pushing up trees as it went.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie/Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lyndon B. Johnson can hold his own with his predecessors in the joke department, reports Bob Hope, just back from an encounter with presidential humor.

Hope did his usual slick job at the White House photographers annual dinner last weekend, and Variety reported that the President was equally a smash. The Variety verdict: "Johnson knows the words to punch and the most effective ways to pause. LBJ is in the Bob Hope class in comedy."

The comedian concurs with the show biz bible's review. "He's very fast with a line," said Hope. "When I walked in his office with the other entertainers the day before the show, the President asked me, 'How do you find time to make all that money?'"

Hope classifies Johnson on par with other recent presidents in the quip department, and he should know. He has performed seven times at Washington functions before the last five presidents.

"They were all great," said Bob. "Roosevelt had a wonderful sense of humor, and Truman and Eisenhower do all right, too. Kennedy's wit was marvelous; he loved nothing better than a good joke."

Hope demonstrated some of his own material from the dinner. "I was going to stay at the White House, but I didn't bring a flashlight. They're turning off the lights at the State Department, too. Dean Rust doesn't want Senator Fulbright to find his office."

"Faces really change here in Washington. I asked my cab driver what has happened to Jimmy Hoffa, and he said, 'Speaking.' Actually I'm here in Washington as part of a cultural exchange. You sent us Pierre

The selections are made by motion picture critics throughout the country.

Mistakes Own Child for Burglar

FORT SUMNER, N.M. (AP) —Kenneth Dorothy told a coroner's jury that he and his wife got up in the night to investigate the sound of breaking glass.

The two walked toward the source of the sound. Dorothy told officers he shouted, then fired a 22-caliber pistol into the darkness believing the disturbance had been created by a burglar.

The coroner's jury Thursday ruled the death of 5-year-old Kennita Kay Dorothy was accidental.

Salinger. If he gets elected, he may be our first webback senator. He's running against George Murphy, the only campaigner who takes along both a campaign manager and a choreographer.

The fund and another the same size were established in 1940 by Rooney's mother.

Lippmann, noted political commentator, said Wednesday night on a television interview ("CBS Reports") that Scranton is "the man I think has the greatest promise as a public man in the coming years."

NEW YORK (AP) - A Harlem widow claims Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., has transferred property in Puerto Rico to his wife's relatives to avoid paying a $46,500 judgment to her. Mrs. Esther James won the judgment in a defamation suit charging Powell had accused her of collecting graft for policemen. In a new suit filed Wednesday in New York, Mrs. James asked $250,000 against Powell, claiming he transferred a house worth $50,000 to Mr. and Mrs. Gonzalo Diago, uncle and aunt of his wife, without financial consideration.

Key Cardinal Hurler Going to the Minors

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ray Washburn, whose right arm—when sound—is thought to be big enough to lift St. Louis' pennant chances, is on his way down to the minors for at least the first 2½ weeks of the season.

The Cardinals said Thursday they were sending Washburn to Jacksonville of the International League where they hope he will strengthen the arm that hasn't been sound since the early part of last season.

"We've been using some caution with him," St. Louis Manager Johnny Keane explained Thursday night. "As a result he hasn't got quite as much work as we wanted him to get. We're leaving him in warm weather whereas we might run into bad weather elsewhere."

Keane explained that the 25-year-old hurler must remain, under baseball rules, with Jacksonville for at least 10 days after its season starts. Washburn, therefore won't be available to the Cards until May 2.

With his return, the Cards hope their pennant chances will soar.

Washburn, tore a shoulder muscle after winning his first five games in 1963. He lost three games before taking a trip to Tulsa of the Texas League where he recorded a 7.00 earned run average.

The injury broke up a solid starting rotation of Washburn, Bob Gibson, Ernie Broglio and Curt Simmons. The Cards finished second, six games behind Los Angeles. Some think a well Washburn would've put the Cardinals into the World Series.

Until the 6-foot-2, 200-pounder again can become a starter, Roger Craig, the erstwhile Met, will join the other three in St. Louis' regular rotation.

In other developments, the Los Angeles Dodgers traded relief pitcher Larry Sherry, star of the 1959 World Series, to Detroit for minor league outfielder Lou Johnson and $10,000. Milwaukee sent catcher Bob Uecker to St. Louis for catcher Jim Coker and outfielder Gary Kolb.

Exhibition play saw Houston batter the Cards and Gibson 7-1. Cincinnati beat the Chicago White Sox 5-2 while Baltimore clubbed Milwaukee and Warren Spahn 5-2.

Sikes Shoots 3 Over Par at Meet

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—R. H. Sikes of Springdale, Ark., an amateur, shot a 3-over-par 75 in the first round of the Masters Golf Tournament here Thursday.

Sikes, a former University of Arkansas star and two-time National Public Links champion, had a 38-37. That left him in a 15-way tie for 28th place.

Success Smell Hangs Over Toronto

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The sweet smell of success hung over the Toronto dressing room.

Goalie Johnny Bower had just skated off the ice, a horseshoe garland of 1,500 roses draped over his shoulders.

Meanwhile, George Armstrong administered a soda shampoo to Dave Keon's crew-cut hair.

The Leafs were celebrating their 3-1 victory over Montreal in the seventh and deciding game of their Stanley Cup semifinal playoff.

Keon scored all three goals and Bower kicked out all but one of 39 shots, sending the Leafs into the Cup final against the Detroit Red Wings, who defeated Chicago 4-2 in the seventh game of their semifinal.

The Leafs, winners of the Stanley Cup the last two years, will open defense of the title at home Saturday, but there was little looking ahead in the dressing room.

"We played too well to lose," General Manager-Coach Punch Imlach said. "If we had lost there would have been no justice. We should have gotten a lot more goals, but they could easily have tied the game too."

The 39-year-old Bower took care of that, time after time turning back the charging Canadians.

"Don't let anyone kid you," said Imlach. "Bower was the big guy in there."

At Chicago the Red Wings again were forced to employ their two-goalie set-up with Terry Sawchuk handling the first two periods and Roger Crozier taking over in the final session. Sawchuk had been knocked to the ice by Reg Fleming in the second period.

"They keep giving us chances in this Stanley Cup thing," said Detroit Coach Sid Abel, "and we're going to win it one of these times."

Russia Fears Pro Cagers Are Too Good

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia has turned down a proposed visit by some of America's best professional basketball players even though the welcome mat is out for them in satellite countries.

The suspicion here is that Moscow regards Bob Pettit, Bill Russell and Co. as too good and as a source of potential embarrassment.

Moscow did invite the United States to send along amateurs, however, lending support to the belief that Russia would be glad to pit its state-subsidized stars against less than America's best.

The offer for a tour of American professionals was weighed for three months before it was rejected. In reporting the turn-down Thursday, Washington sources said Moscow claimed the Russian athletes would be violating their amateur status if they played the National Basketball Association squad.

U.S. officials discount this, noting that other countries on the NBA team's itinerary do not feel their amateurs will be sullied by competing against American professionals.

The whole thing came as a surprise to Red Auerbach, Boston Celtics' coach who is scheduled to coach the touring pros.

"I didn't know we were supposed to go to Russia in the first place," Auerbach said in Boston.

As things now stand, the NBA stars will travel next month to Communist Poland—which initiated the invitation—to Romania and then to Yugoslavia and the United Arab Republic.

The American amateurs are heading for Poland next week and will go on to Russia to play an eight-game schedule.

TEMPER, TEMPER!—As spring weather sent the thermometer soaring in Philadelphia, it also sent up the temper of John Porada. The Fairleigh Dickinson University third baseman is sitting down, protesting umpire Bill Jones' ruling that a Temple player who slid into him was safe.

Pascual and Koufax Best of the Year

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

A left-hander who has won only 93 games in nine years and a right-hander who has a losing career record for 10 seasons have been named as the winningest pitchers in the major leagues this year.

The pitchers with the deceptively low records are Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodgers' strikeout artist who had a 25-5 record last season, and Camilo Pascual, Minnesota's curve ball specialist who posted a 21-9 record.

Koufax and Pascual joined Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees and Willie Mays of San Francisco—voted Most Valuable Player honors—as the top four vote-getters in The Associated Press' annual pre-season baseball poll.

Earlier, the 294 sports writers and broadcasters balloting in the poll picked the Los Angeles Dodgers to repeat as National League champions and the New York Yankees to make it five straight American League pennants.

The Dodgers' selection was no doubt based heavily on the respect for Koufax, who last year blossomed into a 20-game winner for the first time, pitched 11 shutouts, struck out 306 batters and compiled an eye-opening 1.88 earned run average.

Koufax easily took vote-getting honors, getting the nod from 165 of the voters. He also finished fourth in the National League's MVP balloting, behind Mays, Hank Aaron of Milwaukee and the Dodgers' Tommy Davis.

Koufax' closest competitor for winningest pitcher designation in the NL was teammate Don Drysdale, the right-handed half of the Dodgers' 1-2 pitching punch. Drysdale, 19-17 last season, drew 41 votes to 36 for San Francisco's Juan Marichal, who had a 25-8 mark in 1963.

Pascual, who became a 20-game winner last season for the second consecutive year despite almost a full month of inactivity, rolled up 115 votes in the AL balloting. Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees, 24-7 last season, was second with 35 votes.

Ford's young teammate, Jim Bouton, was next with 30 votes.

noting that other countries on the NBA team's itinerary do not feel their amateurs will be sullied by competing against American professionals.

The whole thing came as a surprise to Red Auerbach, Boston Celtics' coach who is scheduled to coach the touring pros.

Celtics Take Title; Hawks, Warriors Tied

By BOB HOODING
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP)—"There's my man," said Celtics Coach Red Auerbach, rolling a big cigar around his mouth in obvious glee. "Bill Russell. You can have all those other guys."

"The big factor was when Russell laced on his shoes," said Coach Jack McMahon of the losers.

Both comments summed up the feeling Thursday night after Boston had won its eighth straight Eastern Division playoff title by beating Cincinnati 109-95.

The Celtics mopped up the best-of-seven National Basketball Association series in five games and now await the outcome of the Western Division final between St. Louis and the Warriors, which continues at San Francisco Friday night. The teams are tied 2-2.

For his 47 minutes, Russell grabbed 35 rebounds, scored 20 points, had seven assists, six blocked shots, two interceptions, one steal and countless unerring leaps which forced Royals' shooters to aim off course.

"Boston is simply great," said McMahon. "They forced us into errors and always moved the ball to the open man."

"But that Russell," he added, pointing emphatically at the game summary sheet. "Our leading rebounder, Wayne Embry, got 10. And he got 35."

"This has been a fantastic year," Auerbach said. "This season has been worth everything and more. You can't lose a guy like Bob Cousy and not be hurt. Then we lost our first draft choice, Bill Green. Yes, this was my best series ever."

"This ought to shut them up for awhile, too. I was sick of hearing about the fact Cincinnati beat us seven out of 12 during the regular season. The times they beat us were 10 games out in front and Tommy Heinsohn missed three games."

In the rugged final game, Jerry Lucas of the Royals got a lump on the back of his head and an injured elbow after colliding with K.C. Jones in the fourth minute of the game.

McMahon said, "I hope so," when asked if he thought he would be returned as Royals coach next year.

Sam Jones scored 23 points and Heinsohn 19 for Boston, Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson got 24, only nine of them in the first half when Boston spurred out to a 33-19 first-quarter edge.

Copies Yank Stadium at Kansas City

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Right field in Kansas City's ball park will soon be green and yellow near-replica of New York's Yankee Stadium. The next question is what, if anything, can the American League do about it.

A's owner Charles O. Finley calls the V-shaped wooden right field fence a "pennant porch" because he contends the Yankee pennant dynasty was built with easy home runs in their stadium.

"We can't get the Yankees to conform to honest distances, so I'll conform to Yankee distances," Finley said.

The A's fence—at the point of the V—is 296 feet from the plate the same distance as the foul pole in Yankee Stadium. It's 44 inches high, same height as the wall in the House That Ruth Built. Temporary stands are being set up behind the fence.

Cal Hubbard, supervisor of American League umpires, was on hand to watch construction at the request of league President Joe Cronin. Hubbard declined comment, except to offer a rule book.

The rule, which applies to parks built since 1958, specifies: "... A minimum distance of 325 feet from home base to the nearest fence, stand or other obstruction on the right or left field foul lines."

Finley's fence apparently is within the rule because of the key phrase "on the foul lines." Put a period after "fence" and it would be a rule violation.

Doubtless, the spirit of the rule is to insure home runs hit at least 325 feet, but the rule doesn't say so.

A new foul pole has been erected at the 325-foot mark in Kansas City. The 296-foot mark Peralta, undefeated in his last 29 bouts, shows a 39-3-4 mark, including 18 kayoes.

South America has produced only two world champions, both in the lighter divisions. Pascual Perez of Argentina held the 112-pound flyweight title from 1954-1960 and Brazil's Eder Jofre is the current 118-pound bantamweight ruler.

Palmer Goes Good in the First Round

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, smoking less and finally enjoying it, mustered the deserters back to Arnie's Army today after he opened his biennial charge at the Masters Golf Tournament title with a first-round 69.

It was good for one-fifth of the opening-round lead, as the five tied for the lead composed the largest bunch at the top since the tournament began in 1934.

Gary Player of South Africa, who won the Masters in 1961 and lost to Palmer in a playoff the next year, also had 69. So did Kel Nagle of Australia, who nosed out Palmer for the British Open title in 1960.

The other two in the five-man cluster were Bob Goalby, a tour veteran who said he "has been in a slump for a year and a half," and Davis Love Jr., a bespectacled club pro who looks more like a baffled bookkeeper than a golfer.

Jack Nicklaus, defending champion and favorite to be the first man ever to win twice in a row, almost made it a six-way tie when he rapped his second shot to within 12 feet of the pin on the 18th hole.

Nicklaus needed the putt for a birdie three and a 69, but he hit the hole and skidded four feet past, missed that one coming back and finished with a 71. "I had 37 putts," Nicklaus said. "You can't win tournaments with 37 putts."

Palmer, who won the Masters in 1958, 1960 and 1962, picked up recruits for his gallery army-enlistments had been falling off during his long slump since late last summer—when he smashed daring wood shots over the water on the 13th and 15th holes and collected birdie 4s on each.

Part of the blame for Palmer's cold spell had been laid to his decision to give up smoking, probably the most public habit-kicking since they put Prince Albert in the can.

"I'm smoking less, in fact, not at all," he said. "And I'm finally enjoying it."

In all, 19 players in the field of 96 hit par 72 or better. Ten of them were foreigners.

Four shot 70, among them Billy Joe Patton, the witty and exciting amateur player from Morganton, N.C.

Patton, who shot a hole-in-one and missed tying for the title in 1954 by one stroke, made an eagle three when he chipped in from off the green on the 15th hole and came to the last hole needing only a par for a tie for the lead.

He hit his approach badly, finished 50 feet from the cup, and three-putted.

Also at 70 were Don January, Gene Littler and Dave Marr. January had an eagle on the par five 13th.

Ben Hogan, two-time winner who at 51 is still rated one of the best shot-makers around, posted a 73 and was in position to make a good showing. Gene Sarazen, who won in 1935, also had a 73.

Sam Snead, the veteran who had been rated a serious threat, skied to a sad 79.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—First-round leaders in the Masters Golf Tournament over the par 36-36-72 Augusta National course:

He said the Yankee "playing field advantage is one of the greatest injustices in the history of American sports."

The next move apparently is up to Cronin.

Parks 'Willing' in Practices

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)

—The Arkansas coaches worked Thursday to trim the last 12 overweight Razorbacks to playing weight.

The Porkers ran through their second spring football practice session in spirited style. Eighteen more sessions are scheduled.

The team was "willing," but showed a lot of soreness," head man Frank Broyles said after practice.

Twenty-six players reported for practice slightly over weight, but 14 were at playing weight Thursday. Coach Jim Mackenzie supervised special work for the heavy 12.

Jack Brasuell and Jerry Mooty, tailbacks, drew praise from Broyles. Brasuell, as a sophomore, was a starter last season. Mooty, brother of Arkansas All-America Jim Mooty of 1959, was a redshirt last season.

The first fullscale scrimmage of the spring is set for 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—

Premier Thanom Kittikachorn says an investigating committee has found the late Premier Sarit Thanarat set aside millions of dollars in state funds for secret and so far unexplained official projects.

The premier told newsmen the committee discovered 54 million baht (about $2.7 million) drawn from the Finance Ministry in a Bangkok bank account a code name.

He said 12 million baht (about $600,000) of this amount had been used.

Thanom said the committee would continue its investigation. He said all funds belonging to the state would be reclaimed.

Sarit died Dec. 8 of a liver ailment after ruling Thailand for more than five years.

TOKYO (AP)—An ultra-rightist who tried to assassinate Premier Hayato Ikeda was sentenced today to five years imprisonment by the District Court in Fukushima.

Takao Ishimoto, a member of the Great Japan Patriotic Youth organization, was arrested last November while trying to approach Ikeda with a knife in his hand. The premier was campaigning in Fukushima.

Ishimoto denied he intended to kill Ikeda. But the court said the evidence showed that Ishimoto planned to kill the premier because his policy toward Communist China wasn't tough enough.

Reaction to Vote Wallace Received

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Relishing the role of interested bystanders, Southerners generally applauded the vote polled by Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama in his Wisconsin politicaling.

Reaction was varied. Comments from about 35 political leaders and newspaper editors in an Associated Press survey included:

"A great victory."

"A wild-goose chase."

"A political revolution."

"A reaction to Negro militancy."

But most of the spokesmen viewed Wallace's showing as an indication of widespread opposition to the civil rights bill. Wallace got nearly 25 per cent of the presidential primary vote in a race with Gov. John W. Reynolds of Wisconsin, who carried the banner for President Johnson.

On his return to Montgomery, Wallace said the vote was "for the people of Alabama and the people throughout the country who stand up for constitutional government."

He did not say anything directly about racial issues which catapulted him into the national spotlight with his doorway stand against University of Alabama desegregation last year. But he plugged for support of an independent elector slate in Alabama.

His home state had high praise for Wallace.

Said the Montgomery Advertiser:

"The excursion to the Far North by the little Alabama giant
